

Contents

| | |
|--|-----------|
| Preface | 4 |
| Introduction | |
| | |
| The Unix terminal | 8 |
| Why use the command line? | |
| A brief tour of the terminal | |
| Reading file contents | |
| Listing files intelligently | |
| Piping one command into another | |
| Finding files based on search criteria | |
| Searching for text with grep | |
| Copying, moving, and deleting files | |
| Reading file information | |
| Combining commands | |
| Terminal tips and tricks | |
| Some terminal challenges | |
| Remote terminals | |
| Terminal multiplexing | |
| | |
| Regular expressions | 60 |
| Regular expressions | |
| Character classes | |
| Quantification | |
| Meta characters | |
| Grouping | |
| Greedy, lazy, and eager matching | |
| Escape characters | |
| Back references and lookahead | |
| Match groups | |

Replacements
Back to Grep

Git 102

- Introduction to version control
- An abridged tour of Git
- Git's design decisions
- Git for Subversion users
- Adding and removing files
- Committing changes
- Working with the commit log
- Branching and merging
- Stashing unsaved changes
- Remotes
- Tips and techniques

Scrum 165

- Introducing Scrum
- Organizing your team
- Organizing your tasks
- Organizing your meetings
- How to make Scrum work

Teamwork 185

- Running a great team
- Building a great environment
- Communicating effectively